LAST MINUTE NEWS

The following is a telegram received from Capt. Davis M. Shryer, of Chicago, Ill:

Chicago, Ill.

M. J. Thomas, Resident Secretary,
80th Division Veterans' Association,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Greeting to all former members of the 80th Division and especially of the 305th Field Signal Battalion and 317th Infantry that Chicago is not so far from Pittsburgh, and I am looking forward to seeing you all at the Tenth Anniversary.

(Signed) DAVID M. SHRYER,
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Joseph E. Wilson, former Captain Medical Department, 319th Infantry, of 1452 Broadway, New York, announces the removal of his office to 5 E. Fifty-seventh street. For appointment call Plaza 4668.

William A. Schmelz, formerly of Company M, 320th Infantry, returned from California where he had spent a few months regaining his health.

The Philadelphia Post held its Annual Banquet on Thursday, April 28, at Kugler's Restaurant, Philadelphia. The Resident Secretary wishes to thank the Philadelphia Post for the invitation extended him, and regrets very much that he was unable to attend. Only very pressing matters kept him away. The Philadelphia Post is always up and doing.

Rudolph Kohs, formerly of Headquarters Company, 319th Infantry, is now with the 76th Company, Sixth Regiment, and is on his way to China. He surely will find excitement there.

Another Objective Gained

BY BURG C. CLARK

THE announcement in the newspapers of the country on March 8th that Col. Lloyd M. Brett, Col. William J. Nicholson, and Col. William C. Brown had each received the restoration of their war-time ranks as Brigadier Generals, to those who were familiar with the inside story, marked the victory of the 80th in again obtaining its objective.

Those of the division who are fortunate enough to have early copies of "Service Magazine" can trace the progress of the battle. Turn to the January, 1920, issue and read "More Stars for the 80th," then to the March, 1920 issue for the article, "Don't Raise Your Boy to be a Brigadier." This was written by one of the early editors of "Service," Dwight Fee, who today sits as City Editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times. Read "H. R. 5309" in the June, 1921, issue, and it will be seen that the original bill (later revised and passed as H. R. 5028) was originated and presented by Congressman Stephen G. Porter, of Pittsburgh. Other reports of the progress of this matter appear in various issues of "Service" but none give an adequate idea of the work done by men of the 80th and friends of General Brett in bringing the movement to a successful conclusion.

The story of the delays, the objections, the compromises, amendments and tactics necessary to have the bill approved is as detailed as the history of the Bonus Bill. The real objective appeared in sight, however, when through the cooperation of the Honorable John M. Morin, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, the bill was reported out of his committee favorably about a year ago and action could then be taken by the House and Senate.

One man stands out above all others in his friendship to the 80th and General Brett — Congressman Stephen G. Porter who introduced the bill and persistently fought for its adoption in the face of what seemed unsurmountable obstacles. He eventually saw it succeed and it was through his efforts and ability that it did succeed.

It was the only bill that moved through the deadlock and filibuster in the last session of the Senate. That in itself would no doubt make an interesting story.

The thing that interests the vast majority, however, is the result, and that result is that General Brett now has his rightful rank as Brigadier General, retired, and the service of the men of the 80th in France has received this recognition.

This objective has been reached—let us turn to another. We must find ways to publish our history; we must commemorate the places where our comrades fell with suitable monuments; and we must perpetuate our association if these things and many others are to be accomplished. Let us again MOVE FORWARD.

April 25, 1927.

Dear Editor:

I am requested by a sister of William A. Holland, former member of the 80th Division, 314th Field Artillery, Battery E, to write to you giving the information to his buddies that on Sunday morning, April 17, 1927, he was injured seriously in an automobile accident. His spine is injured to the extent that he was partially paralyzed. X-Ray pictures were taken at Spencer, W. Va., his home, which did not disclose the extent of his injury. Through the American Legion, arrangements were made to have him removed to the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington, D. C. He is there at this time receiving treatment. Great praise and credit are given to the Veterans' Bureau of Charleston, W. Va., for the speed and willingness with which they made arrangements for him to be taken to Washington, D. C., for treatment. William A. Holland is an engineer, having been in the employ of the State Road Commission and Roane County Road Department for the last five to seven years.

The Veterans' Bureau is doing a great work in this State. Courteous, obliging, efficient, and willing to do anything possible for the ex-service men.

I, also, am an ex-service man, having formerly and during the World War belonged to the 77th Division.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) R. L. McCULTY,
Clerk of Roane County Court
Spencer, W. Va.

The following is a letter received from Dr. Wm. E. McCain, former Captain of the 315th F. A. Dr. McCain is now a dentist at 3900 Perrysville avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Dear Editor:—

Please put me on your subscribers' list for the SERVICE MAGAZINE and keep me there until I tell you I no longer want the magazine. I have been a Life Member for quite some time, and I want you to send me a statement when my subscription expires, but KEEP THE MAGAZINE COMING.

Yours for the 80th,
(Signed) W. E. MCCAIN,

Hamilton P.C.

Dear Buddies,

Well, well, Buddies, here we are in our new P.C. and it surely is some dugout,—solid concrete, brick, fire - proof building like the ones the Germans built for us over there. But in place of 40 foot underground we are 40 foot in the air. We have our own private dugout with all our belongings on the same floor. You see, we had Shanahan deliver all the goods we had in storage for us here in our new P. C. So, you see, we are going to save time and money. You know what I mean.

Mr. Crowley had me and the R. S. stepping on the gas while moving. Say, Buddy, take it from me, Mr. Joe Crowley is not a piker when it comes to work. The 80th missed a good man, by not having him with us over there, but he was past the age limit, and he did his bit at home. He surely is doing his share for a better and larger 80th. He is another Bill Fleming or a Mr. Anderson. Get me? You know what I mean.

Well, we can't thank Mr. Crowley and the Colonial Press enough for all they have done for us. I know that all my pals are with me in wishing them successful progress for the future.

We have had quite a number of new faces show up at headquarters since our last issue, and they all think we are doing fine. They all offered us help, and showed great spirit and interest in future events.

Say, Buddy, are you in on the eats? Take a look at the Morning Report, and read about the Post and Unit get-together. Get in line with that old outfit of yours for a great get-together here at Pa Pitt's town, at the tenth anniversary. Get in touch with that pal of yours. Start saving a penny here and a penny there. You'll be surprised how quickly it will add up, and soon you'll have enough to buy a round-trip ticket to Pa Pitt's town. And, remember, it will be 25 per cent less than the regular fare. Just write me for the reduced railroad certificate or any other information you desire concerning the anniversary. Get me?

FUTURE SONS AND DAUGHTERS

Our President, Captain D. Cella, is the proud father of a darling baby boy. Congratulations from all the members are in order. Vive le petit captain!

First Sergeant J. J. Madden, formerly of the 320th Inf. A Company, is the proud father of his first son. Welcome little stranger!

J. T. Towers, formerly First Lieutenant, Company L, 318th Inf., of 1403 Second street, Elmwood, York, Pa., announces the arrival of a baby girl, Gladys May. Congratulations.

We received a little card today from Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Baldwin, of North Caldwell, N. J., announcing the arrival of adorable twins, Fred Nelson and James Northcate. We extend our hearty welcome to these two new members of the "Sons and Daughters of Battery F, 313th F. A."

BLOOD-RED POPPIES OF FRANCE

The poppies are blooming, they bask in the sun
Thankful to God for the peace that has come.
They remember the battles, they heard the big guns—
Ask them the secret how the World War was won.
They witnessed the carnage, they saw your sons die
But flowers, they said, are not known to cry.
So bravely they gathered the blood of the dead,
To brighten the stripes of the flag they said.

A convention was called in the fall of the year,
Each poppy, however, failed to appear.
Now, Gold Star Mothers, if you wish to trace
The life-blood of your loved ones, just look in their face.

JACK SUGDEN.

SMITH, First Lieut. Chester H.—Army Signal Corps, who died at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday, February 23, 1927, was buried on Friday, February 25, in Arlington National Cemetery, with military honors. Lieut. Smith was born in Washington, February 18, 1883, and entered the Army as a private in Company H, Signal Reserve Corps, in 1917.

During the World War he served overseas as a corporal in the 305th Field Signal Battalion, 80th Division, and was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Regular Signal Corps, July 1, 1920. His widow, Mrs. Mary Waters Smith, resides at 202 E. Street, Northeast.

HAYES, James J.—Age 39, former president of Sharpsburg Council and a World War veteran, died in his home, 1882 Middle street, Sharpsburg, Pa., on Saturday night, March 19, 1927. He was head of the proof department of the Mellon National Bank, where he had been employed 23 years. He was well known in the Sharpsburg district, where he was born on December 28, 1887. He was active in politics, having served as borough auditor from 1908 until 1912, when he was elected to council by the largest vote ever given a candidate in Sharpsburg, and was chosen president of that body, which he served four years. He established the first sinking fund by the borough. At the time of his death he was a member of the State Central Committee of the Democratic party, to which he was elected from the Thirty-second Congressional district. He was a member of the first contingent from Sharpsburg during the World War and trained at Camp Lee, a member of Company E, 319th Infantry, 80th Division. During the Liberty Loan drive, Hayes was sent home from camp to sell Liberty Bonds, and returned after three days with a record sale of $102,450 in bonds and the largest number of individual subscriptions of any soldier from camp. When the 80th Division went overseas Hayes was made Divisional Sergeant Major, the rank he held up till the war ended. He was formerly well known in amateur baseball ranks, and played shortstop for the Y. M. I., Park Views and Walters, all of Sharpsburg, and the Mellon Bank' team in the Bankers' League. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Sharpsburg; Banker and Bank Clerks' Association; Guyasuta Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Sharpsburg Post, American Legion; Guyasuta Club of Sharpsburg, and Sharpsburg Eagles. Besides his father, James J. Hayes, Sr., he is survived by four sisters, Nellie, Margaret and Anne, of Sharpsburg, and Mrs. Herbert Trenbath, of Edgewood.

PITTSBURGH AUXILIARY No. 1

80th Division Veterans' Association Ladies' Auxiliary Plans Excursion

The Auxiliary will hold an excursion on the popular and attractive steamer, the Homer Smith, on Wednesday evening, June 8. Judging from the enthusiasm and interest among the young women of this organization we know there will be a wonderful time on board for everyone who is fortunate enough to be able to attend.

The Pittsburgh Auxiliary is surely doing splendid work. Just recently the auxiliary gave $10 toward a radio to be installed in the Marine Hospital. A finer or better work than this could not be done. This same generous spirit, together with other numerous admirable qualities, has made theirs one of the best auxiliaries in the country today.

Norfolk-Portsmouth Post No. 1

At a meeting of the Norfolk-Portsmouth Post No. 1, held in February, at the Fairfax Hotel, the following were elected officers for the year 1927:

Commander W. W. Jordan, 528 Virginia avenue, Norfolk, Va., who was a sergeant in Mach. G. Co., 318th Inf.

Vice Commander E. B. Truitt, 301 Granby street, Norfolk, Va., who was a sergeant in Med. D., 318th Inf.

Adjutant George W. Brittingham, 200 E. Plume street, Norfolk, Va., and who was a private in 318th Inf.

Finance Officer Wm. H. Bucking, 1912 Debree avenue, Norfolk, Va., who was a chaplain in 318th Inf., and has held the job since the formation of the post.

Captain J. Carl Peck has been confined in the Sarah Leigh Hospital for some time and has undergone two very serious operations and has had to receive blood transfusion. A number of the 80th boys answered the call and W. W. Jordan was selected and gave the blood. The captain is doing fine and was allowed his first visitor who was Comrade Jordan. Captain, we know how hard you have had to fight and all are pulling for you and know we will soon have the pleasure of seeing you at the Post meetings.

J. B. (Short Circuit) Moore said he does not understand why he did not receive a card from New Orleans, and that he still lives at 215 W. 29th street, Norfolk, Va. Hope you don't feel hurt, Joe.

A. B. Hill, senior vice commander, Department of Virginia V. F. W. and J. B. Diehl, Grand Seam Squirrel of the Grand Pup Tent of Va. M. O. C. attended a meeting of the V. F. W. at the Old Soldiers' Home, Hampton, Va., where the Department of Virginia V. F. W. are having 200,000 Poppies made for the Post in the State.

P. A. Jones, A. M. Brownley and J. B. Diehl are rarin' to show their stuff when the Shrine go to Atlantic City in June.

On April 19 in honor of the seventh birthday of Norfolk Post, No. 392, V. F. W., a stand of silk colors were presented to the Post. Dr. H. R. Seelinger presented the Post flag on behalf of the donor and Lieut. W. H. Sands, now Col. 111th F. A. Va. N. G., made the speech of the evening.

Philadelphia Post, No. 2

Fourth Annual Banquet of Philadelphia Post

About 75 members of the Post turned out and, if the general comments are to be taken as proof, seemed to have spent an enjoyable evening. We had as speakers our National Commander, Comrade Cella; Colonel Edwin E. Hollenback, Chef de Gare of the 40-8; Harper Tobin, State Commander of the V. F. W.; Mr. Geo. C. Corson, Assistant District Attorney of Montgomery County and formerly of the 90th Division; Mr. Harry Crosson, of the Philadelphia District of the Veterans' Bureau, and Dr. Ray F. Jenny, formerly Chaplain of the Fourth Division. Comrade Rodney T. Bonsall, Commander of Philadelphia Post acted as toastmaster.

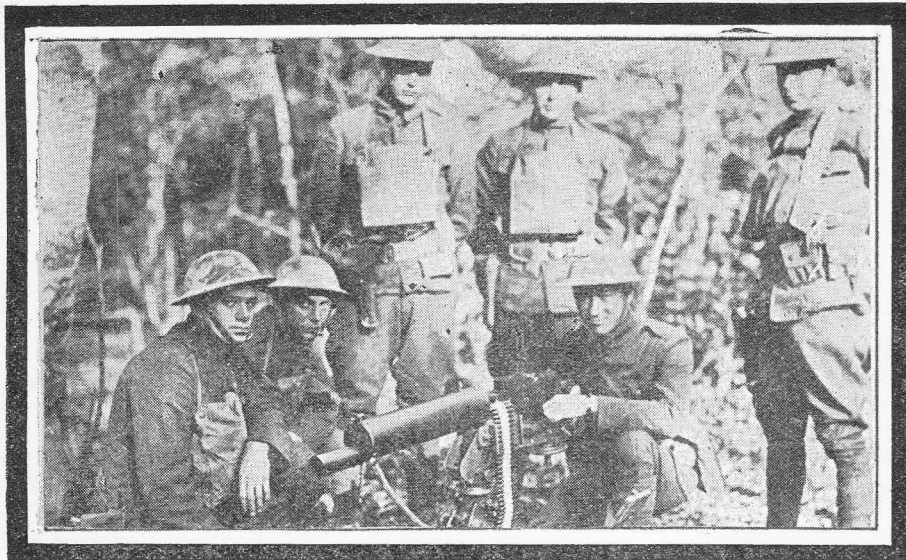

We are now making preparations for the proper observance of Memorial Day at the various cemeteries where 80th Division men are buried, and at the same time urging every one who can possibly make the trip, to attend the Tenth Anniversary Reunion in Pittsburgh on August 31, when we hope to bring our entire Drum and Bugle Corps, together with the largest representation we have yet had.

ELMER R. LEDDON.

Pittsburgh Post No. 3 Installs New Officers

At the last meeting, held March 18, 1927, nominations and election of officers took place, the following being elected for the coming year:

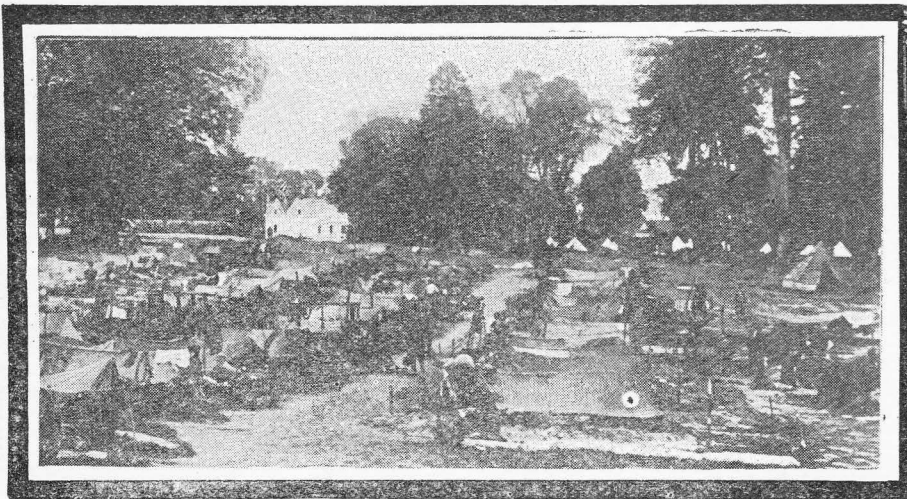

Commander, Hon. D. Paulson Foster; Senior Vice Commander, C. A. Taylor; Junior Vice Commander, J. J. Madden; Chaplain, E. J. Baessler; Adjutant and Quartermaster, R. P. Loeffler; Color Sergeant, H. J. McKenna; Bugler, Earl

The new officers were installed following the election.

Our new Commander, Comrade Foster, has secured new headquarters for the Post in the Judges Chambers in the Court House.

We are working hard on plans for the coming anniversary, and present indications are that it is going to be the best ever. We want every member of the 80th to attend. All members of Pittsburgh Post No. 3 should attend the coming meetings and help us put it over.

Three new members were taken into the Post at this meeting.

At our meeting held April 8, 1927, in the new quarters secured by our Commander, a number of old comrades turned out. There are many more that we would like to see present at the meetings; so, if you are one of the tardy ones, snap out of it and be present at the next one.

A new member was also taken into the Post at this meeting, making four in two weeks. Keep it up, boys; we need them. The four new members are as follows: Comrades Fred J. Askin, Chas. J. Deberon, P. F. Rogers and B. Miskewicz, the last named also signed up for Life Membership in the Association.

The next regular business meeting will be held Friday, May 20. Be there, buddy, and bring a new member with you, for we are going to need plenty of help in putting this anniversary over, and we want every buddy to have a hand in it.

Yours in comradeship,

R. P. Loeffler, Adjutant.

(My commission expires January 26, 1930.)

Brigadier General Briant H. Wells, who commanded the 318th Infantry during the period of its organization at Camp Lee, on March 21st was appointed Deputy Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army.

France has contracted the preparedness "fever" with a vengeance. Last month, by an act of the Chamber of Deputies, the French Government decreed mobilization of every person of both sexes and of every industry in time of national emergency. Some of us used to consider the French slow, too.

The gold key of Phi Beta Kappa fraternity was presented to Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd, U. S. N., at the University of Virginia on February 28, in token of his initiation into honorary membership. The presentation was made by Major Armistead M. Dobbs, professor of law at the University and head of the local Phi Beta Kappa chapter, who served as aide with Major General Cronkhite, the Division Commander.

The "S. S. Leviathan," which enabled the 318th Infantry and some thousands of other American troops to bridge the interval between Hoboken and Brest, still has a faculty for getting in the news columns. Its most recent publicity feat centered about the ownership of 179 bottles of pre-war refreshments, discovered aboard the giant liner upon its arrival at New York last month. The passenger charged with the rare possession declared the stewards sold liquor to "anyone with a thirst and sufficient money to satisfy it." Yes, times have altered since the days when A. E. F.-ers formed the "Leviathan's" passenger lists.

Captain Thos. W. Hooper, of Culpeper, Va., known correctly as the "Fighting Parson" of the 319th Infantry, was awarded another distinction in Richmond on February 10, when he was elected Grand Chaplain of Virginia Masons at the 149th annual communication of that body. Captain Hooper's love of Masonry is next to his affection for the 80th.

The U. S. Treasury, that reservoir of wealth presided over by Pittsburgh's famous citizen, announced a few weeks ago that holders of Liberty Bonds have failed to collect $35,000,000 in interest due them. No mention of the percentage of war veterans thus delinquent in clipping their coupons was made. Reasons for the "omission" are not discussed by polite folks.

Another lone male has gone and signed up for the duration of man's longest enlistment. The information is official, and thusly: "Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schupbach announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Mae, to Mr. Howard F. Clem, on Wednesday, April 20, 1927, New Martinsville, West Virginia." Comrade Clem was one of the men who made Company G, 318th Inf., worth commanding. Now that he has joined forces with the elect Order of Benedicts, his old "side-kicks" will forgive him for "getting 'em up in the morning." Bon Chance, 'n everything, Howard—may the future be one unbroken promenade "along the sunny highways." Comrade Clem, whose home is at Woodstock, Va., has been connected with the Western Union Telegraph Company since la guerre.

Hopewell, the "Paris of Camp Lee," and Virginia's magic city of war days, has staged a "come-back" not foreseen by its most optimistic citizen. In February, upon the heels of the announcement that the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation of New York, had purchased 300 acres in Hopewell for the erection of a $125,000,000 plant, the city officials became alarmed as a result of the influx of new population and took formal steps to guard against a repetition of the town's boom of 80th Division memory. And yet there are some who persist in querying, "What's in a name?" The answer is H-o-p-e-w-e-l-l."

Comrade Ray B. Coffman, of Edinburg, Va., ex-313th Field Artillery, has accepted a position as traveling salesman with the Liggett-Myers Tobacco Co., with assignment to the Virginia territory. Ray acquired considerable "traveling experience" under the Blue Ridge banner, likewise expert training in "rolling his own," all of which he now proposes to capitalize.

The Virginia War Memorial Commission early in April approved the design submitted by Ralph Adams Cram, Boston architect, which is in the form of a carillon, to be erected in Richmond. The plans call for a rotunda beneath a 200-foot tower with wings extending on each side of the tower, which probably will be devoted to housing works of art. It is estimated the memorial will cost between $230,000 and $250,000, exclusive of bells. These, it is figured, will cost $75,000. Work on the project, however, will be delayed for some months, because the Commission must obtain funds from the General Legislature before it can proceed with its plans. The Commission's report to the Legislature will not be made until the regular session next year.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hulvey, of Broadway, Va., announce the arrival of a son, christened Jewett Marion, on March 17. Here's another opportunity for a brave soldier to tell what he did to win the war! Comrade Hulvey, who is in the mercantile business at Broadway, used to earn his francs with Company E, 318th Infantry.

A new and feathered garrison has been ordained for the present site of Camp Lee. According to a Petersburg press dispatch under date of April 3, the former cantonment area, which was taken over from the War Department some time ago by the Federal Forest Reserve, will be used as a game preserve by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries of Virginia. As soon as the various existing obstructions, including trenches, concrete and other relics of the cantonment are cleared up, the place will be used as a site for future field trials. Keep your old Lee-Enfields bathed in "3-in-1," boys, maybe there'll be a chance to use 'em yet!

Comrade Merwin J. Stickley, ex-Headquarters Company, 318th Infantry, who has been dispensing "rations" for the Great A. & P. Tea Co., at Clifton Forge, Va., for the past year, is now located at New Market, Va.

From across the shrinking Atlantic comes the word that Paris theater proprietors are perfecting plans for tempting the coin of the thousands of Americans expected to visit the French Capital this year in the wake of the American Legion pilgrimage. The "Folies Bergere" and other wartime rendezvous of permissionaires have reopened and are promising their most luring productions. It seems the present year has been the worst theatrical season since the war and the anticipated deluge of visitors is counted upon to bolster French purses and make the franc worth counting again. Somehow, we have an idea Paree is going to be disappointed in quite a few of our domesticated vets. Paraphrasing a bit, "they're out of the army now."

Colonel Charles Keller, formerly Regimental Commander of the 317th Infantry, who has been on duty with the General Staff, U. S. Army, in Washington, for several years, has been transferred to the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., and will enter upon his new assignment about June 20. The best wishes of many comrades will follow Colonel Keller to his new station.

The Army's first Air Review will be staged near San Antonio, Texas, May 11 and 12, with nearly 200 planes participating in the maneuvers. It is estimated that the aviators will cover a distance of 476,000 miles in flights from their various home stations to Texas. There will be bombing, observation, pursuit, attack, transport and staff planes in the review. Just who will take the salute has not been revealed.

Two former officers of the 313th Field Artillery, Captain (now Major) R. T. Barton, of Winchester, Va., and Captain John Paul, of Harrisonburg, Va., were among the war veterans actively interested in the recent extra session of the Virginia Legislature—the former as a member of the House of Delegates and the latter (an ex-member of the Senate), as one of the sponsors of a petition presented to the Legislature by Virginia Republicans (appealing for liberalization of the State's voting laws.

Comrade Charles B. Hartman, who served with Company E, 318th Inf., and who was gassed in action during the Meuse-Argonne operations, recently underwent a serious operation at the Rockingham Memorial Hospital, Harrisonburg, Va., and is now convalescing at his home at Linville, Va.

April's place in history as America's war month is secure—no month of the twelve can point to a more fruitful record in this respect. The American Revolution, the War with Mexico, Civil War, Spanish-American War and the War with Germany, all had their formal beginning in April. It would thus appear that springtime is favorable for belligerency as well as for amorous exploits. And each activity is about as dangerous as the other.

Those perennial martial exhibitions so dear to the hearts of Central and South Americans have lost their virginal thrills for Comrade Junius R. Riddick, formerly Sergeant, Company G, 318th Inf., who has been a resident manager for subsidiaries of the British-American Tobacco Company in that neck o' the world ever since his return from mis-named France. He is now located in Caracas, the capital of Venezuela, where he expects to be stationed for several years, being transferred from San Jose, Costa Rica. Last year, "June" made a trip through Central America for the purpose of studying the tobacco game, spending from October to December in Salvador and visiting Panama, Colombia and Cracao en route to his new billet. The Spanish "pronto" has supplanted the French "toot sweet" in his post-war vocabulary, and "siesta" now means the same as "couche."

"War-Time Spirit Lives Again as Vets Cash In on Bonuses." Thus more than one of the country's newspapers head-lined the scenes attending the first day's loans on the Adjusted Service Certificates in those cities where the banks extended this privilege. Now that the Veterans' Bureau has been empowered to make loans on the policies, quite a few picturesque reporters have been cheated out of some good material for "copy." Yeh, the Main Man is enjoying a temporary revival of his late popularity in military circles.

The Virginia War History Commission recently concluded its labor of compiling source volumes of material relating to Virginia in the World War. These volumes—seven in number—are obtainable at $2.00 per copy, or $12.50 per set, from the State Librarian, Richmond, Va. The titles are: Virginians of Distinguished Service; War History in News Clippings; War Letters, Diaries and Editorials; Virginia Military Organizations; and Virginia Communities (two volumes). The volumes form a monumental contribution to Virginia's part in the war and contain much valuable historical material of interest to members of the 80th Division, including histories of the 313th M. G. Battalion and the 317th and 318th Infantry Regiments. A more extended review of the undertaking will be given in the next issue of "Service."

With some thousands of "Leather-Necks" on duty in Nicaragua and China, and Mexico always a potential bidder for still others, the Marine Corps' familiar recruiting slogan has developed into something more than a lureful promise. Sure, Central America and our late laundrymen are not behaving exactly like Uncle Samuel would have 'em do these days. Apparently our career as the world's "top kick" is about ended.

The April issue of "Foreign Service," official journal of the V. F. W., carried a two-column account of the military career of Brigadier General Lloyd M. Brett, Commander of the 160th Infantry Brigade and esteemed friend and comrade of every Blue Ridger. The article was inspired by the recent restoration of General Brett to his war-time grade on the retired list of the Army, following the efforts of veteran organizations extending over a period of years. A detailed account of this fight to correct an injustice appears elsewhere in this issue. The 80th rejoices with General Brett upon the happy outcome.

Comrade Rudolph Kohs was discharged on February 19 of this year after completing a five-year cruise with the Marines, and re-enlisted two days later for four years. Why not? W. B. Weissblatt, former First Lieutenant, 320th Infantry, was elected treasurer of the Contoocook Mills Corporation at its annual meeting a few weeks ago. Mr. Weissblatt will devote most of his time to merchandising their product, and has already made a successful start in that direction while serving as assistant treasurer under Mr. H. E. Fisher, who was re-elected clerk. Comrade Weissblatt has spent the past six months at the mills, familiarizing himself with the products and methods of manufacture. From now on he will make his headquarters in Boston, at the company's office, 78 Chauncey street.

Mr. Weissblatt is a native of Philadelphia, and attended George Washington University, Washington, D. C. While at college he worked on the Washington Times. When the United States entered the World War, he was commissioned First Lieutenant in the 320th Infantry.

Private first-class W. L. Bunting, formerly of the Headquarters Co., 320 Inf., of the 80th Division, is associated with the firm of Bunting & Littleton, at Bloxom, Va. Since the war Bunting has married and has a daughter, Ruth Thomas. His wife was Miss Thelma Thomas, of Melfa, Va.

Joe Harris of the Pirates Baseball Club had the pleasure of meeting his old standby, Captain Ralph E. Johnson, formerly of the 319th Inf. at Chicago, April 18. Captain Johnson was injured in action in France and he asks to be remembered to all his former buddies.

Company A—320th

Company A was represented at the last regular meeting of Pittsburgh Post No. 3 by Jerry Madden, Fred Askon, Edwin Baessler and Sam Fleming. We would like to see a much larger representation than this. There are plenty of Company A men who live in Pittsburgh, and we should have at least thirty or forty at every meeting. As no initiation fees are charged at present, it will cost only "one buck" a year to belong. Let's have a big turnout at the next meeting, May 20, at the old Court House, Room 529, at 8 o'clock. Show them we are still on the job.

E Company, 320th Infantry Reunion and Banquet

On Saturday evening, April 23, the Eighth Annual Reunion of the outfit was held in the Norse Room of the Fort Pitt Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa. Marking as it did the Tenth Anniversary of the organization of E Company, it also marked the best attended, most enthusiastic reunion to date.

Seventy-five reservations were received for the banquet. Some few men were unable to be present, but those who did attend were enthusiastic in their praise of the committee for working up such a splendid program for their amusement.

As usual, Walter Bradford's seven-piece orchestra supplied a snappy, peppy rendition of war songs, all during the course of the dinner. His group was further augmented this year with a "Black Bottom" dancer—a gentleman who could work his feet faster than any Buck Private headed for the mess line. Bill Barnett, brother of the far-famed Luke Barnett, was obtained by the committee to act as head waiter, and incidentally pester some of the unsuspecting E Company men from out of town. To say that he was successful would be putting it mildly. Some of the men—notably some of the former officers of the Company—were so worked up over Barnett's unwelcome attentions that they had a "beaten path" made from the banquet hall to the hotel manager's office, endeavoring to have that blankety-blank head waiter fired. However, in due time Barnett was introduced to the crowd and regaled the men with a number of good stories.

Following the dinner, a picture projecting machine was set up on one side of the hall, and Camp Lee and Overseas pictures were flashed on the screen, bringing back to the men many scenes and faces long forgotten.

Sergeant Jerry O'Connor acted as toastmaster for the evening, and aside from the stories he told, persuaded the out-of-town visitors to say a few words. Captain Anson T. McCook, of Hartford, Conn., and Lieutenants W. J. Waters and K. M. Bixler, of New York City; W. W. Martin, of Richmond, Va., and W. L. Turner, Jr., of Penola, Vt., all had a few words to say to the men.

To fittingly mark E Company's Tenth Anniversary, a number of novel souvenirs were prepared by the committee in charge, and distributed to the men. Commemorative badges, suitable for permanent use as watch fobs, were handed each man during the course of the dinner. And perhaps the biggest surprise to most of the men was the distribution of E Company's War Diary. This little booklet, written by Lieut. W. W. Martin and Sergeant Dan J. Fackiner and illustrated by Sergeant H. W. Ludwig, briefly recounts the travels of the Company from the date of its departure from the United States until its return. A number of these booklets are still on hand and will be mailed to those members of the Company who were unable to be present at the reunion. Kindly write the Company Secretary for your copy.

The usual Company business was transacted toward the close of the evening, during which Sergeant William Maisch, president and, Sergeant H. W. Ludwig, secretary, were re-elected to their respective offices.

In addition to the activities of the evening, mention should be made that E Company tried to cheer the Pittsburgh Pirates to victory on the afternoon of the reunion. Approximately 30 men were able to get out to the game to work up a real appetite for the dinner to follow.

For the biggest and best E Company reunion yet held, acknowledgment is given the following committee: Davies, Luley, Ludwig, Maisch, Maitland, McGowran, O'Connor and Stover.

Co. G, 320th Infantry Notes

Owing to the fact that the 80th Division, Veterans' Association, will hold its Eighth Annual Reunion and Tenth Anniversary of the organization here in Pittsburgh, August 31, September 1, 2, 3 and 4, and Labor Day falling on the 5th, it was the opinion of the Company G banquet committee that it would be advisable to hold the annual Company Banquet at that time, namely, September 3, this being on Saturday evening. Several good reasons are advanced for this action, and the committee was of the opinion that several of the out-of-town members of the company would be able to take advantage of the reduced railroad fare for themselves and for their families. It will also afford better conditions for the ones who desire to motor to Pittsburgh. The Company also expects to have a large delegation attend the Divisional Banquet which will be held during the reunion.

Carlton (Lucky) Leonard, formerly Private, first-class, Company G, 320th Inf., of Chincoteague, Va., is spending the winter in Florida, accompanied by his wife. We wish you a pleasant season, Lucky, and don't let the alligators get you.

C. D. Nelson, formerly Private, first-class, Company G, 320th Inf., is still with the Accomack Banking Co., Inc., at Bloxom, Va. Nelson also has married since the war and has a daughter, Janet Shreves Nelson; his wife was Miss Verna Shreves, of Nelsonia, Va., before her marriage. He says that he would appreciate a line from some of his old army pals.

More than fifty replies have been received to date in regard to the banquet of the Company. All replies have requested it to be held during the reunion of the 80th Division. Out-of-town replies were received from: A. L. Swanson, Huron, Ohio; Henry B. Newman, Newark, N. J.; William Stoll, Broad Ford, Pa.; C. D. Nelson, Bloxom, Va.; Frank Sephton, Monaca, Pa.; Robert Swallow, Connellsville, Pa.; William J. Richard, New Castle, Pa.; Harry J. Smead, Brandford, Pa.; John W. Smith, Woodlawn, Pa.; Andrew Hesidence, El Paso, Texas; Stanley Mong, Dawson, Pa.; E. L. Beauchat, Titusville, Pa.; Harold Bowman, St. Petersburg, Fla.; John Viazanko, Adah, Pa.; C. L. Taylor, Ohio Pyle, Pa.; William Bundorf, St. Petersburg, Fla. The rest are local men. It has been definitely decided to hold the banquet on Saturday evening, September 3. Members will be notified later.

Company I—320th Infantry

The Eighth Annual Reunion of Company I, 320th Infantry, was held at the Morrowfield Hotel, Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening, March 5, 1927. Forty-seven members were present. A two-and-a-half-hour program of entertainment, featuring a six-piece orchestra, movies, and "real lady dancers," was arranged by Comrades Jack Rhea and Ched Johnston.

The publicity given this reunion was without parallel, as E. V. Pennywitt had notices in fifty-eight newspapers, and it was broadcasted over WCAE, the Kaufmann & Baer and the Pittsburgh Press Station, and WJAS, the Pickering Studio, on numerous occasions.

President Bolton was toastmaster, and he read letters from General Lloyd M.

Brett and Captain Wm. C. Vandewater. Former Battalion Adjutant Chester R. Davis wired congratulations and best wishes from his home in Chicago. Jack Sugden concluded the memorial services.

A very pathetic letter was read from Comrade Clyde Beistel (Assistant District Attorney of Allegheny County), who is suffering from an attack of T. B., and is now confined in the Desert Sanitarium, at Tucson, Arizona. The American Flag and the Standard of the Pittsburgh Post No. 3, 80th Division Veterans' Association, were used at the ends of the speakers' table.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of: Sabin Bolton, president; Jack Sugden, secretary-treasurer; E. V. Pennywitt, Jack Rea, Ched Johnston, Bill Parker, Ninian Boggs, J. K. Feather, Ralph Thomas, Ray Atkinson and Chas. Smith.

The next reunion is scheduled for Armistice night, November 11, 1927. Let's go Company I ! ! !

Clyde D. Beistel, formerly of Company I, 320th Infantry, will return to his residence in Pittsburgh some time in May, after spending a few months in Tuscon, Arizona, where he sojourned for his health. He is returning "fit as a fiddle." His comrades are delighted to hear this, and wish him luck and good health "forever after."

Company K, 320th Infantry

Lieut. F. N. Thompson reports that he is going to make every effort to be in Pittsburgh for the Anniversary week.

Lieut. Chester R. Davis, who is with the Chicago Title & Trust Company, has quite a problem on hand as to whether he should go to France with the Legion or attend the 80th Division's Tenth Anniversary in Pittsburgh. What's the answer? We would suggest the 80th's Reunion. Surely.

Capt. W. L. Thompson, of the Otis & Company of Cleveland, writes that we can count on him to be present at the Reunion.

Lieut. Holt Page, of the Central National Bank, Richmond, Va., wants us to convey his best wishes to all members of the old crowd and expects to exert every effort to be here for the Company K banquet during Anniversary week.

Abe Peterson, Major in the 319th Infantry, is now a prominent attorney in Chicago, being a member of the firm of Loucks, Eckert & Peterson.

305 Field Signal Battalion

Capt. Davis M. Shryer, of Company C, has been located. Say "Ack Emma," better get that note-book of yours going. Captain Shryer is with the Chalmers Publication Company at 64 West Randolph street, Chicago, Ill. I hope we will see him at our next get-together.

Sergt. Monte Getz, of Company C, is now superintendent of the Fort Pitt Electric Company, Pittsburgh, Pa. Monte is surely a go-getter.

D. Paulson Foster was elected Commander of the Pittsburgh Post, No. 3, 80th Division, Veterans' Association. The next meeting of the Post will be in Judge Foster's rooms in the Court House on Friday evening, May 20. Let's go, 305th and support Comrade Foster!

Supply Company, 314th F. A.

The "Belly Robbers" will doubtless all be glad to know that George L. ("Red") Kercher is still among the living. "Red" has been married for a couple of years, and is now living at 144 Comrie street, Braddock, Pa. There's no question about this gag, "Gentlemen prefer blondes," because everyone knows "Red" is a gentleman, all right, and his wife is what gentlemen prefer. They have a daughter named Vivian Ruth. I have tried to call to mind whether there was a mademoiselle "over there" who bore that appellation, but my memory fails me.

Henry L. (Doc) Ridge, erstwhile Regimental Supply Sergeant, happily announces the recent arrival of a daughter. This makes two little "Ridges," the first one also being a girl. "Doc" always showed a decided preference for girls, so this explains the atmosphere of genuine satisfaction displayed by him in making the announcement of the latest arrival. Congratulations, Henry.

Had occasion several weeks ago to go down to Wheeling, and I had the pleasure of a visit with "Bill" Higgins and Charlie Miller. While Miller left our outfit at Redon, and was placed on the "retired list" (Headquarters Company), still he just naturally seems a part of the ol' Supply Company. Each of the boys invited me to his home (on successive evenings, of course), and amply shared his "rations" with me, and we enjoyed a real reunion, small as it was. The only regret I have in connection with the visit is the extremely inhospitable "foursome" of bridge the boys framed up on my partner (an out-of-town friend of Bill's) and myself. The Wheeling boys played low bridge, while we played high bridge, and, of course, there's a difference. Unfortunately, the difference was in their favor. However, there's another time coming.

It might be interesting to the gang to know that Bill is connected with the Engineering Department of the B. & O. Railroad, while Miller is peddling securities for a Wheeling brokerage firm.

Had a talk with Thomas J. (Stormy) Ridge the other day, and he tells me former cook, Elzie Shafer, is living in Pittsburgh. Elzie is married and has two daughters.

Stormy is the same old substantial Ridge. He lives in Homestead and works for Morris & Company, packers.

Upon the occasion of a business trip to Washington, D. C., recently, had the pleasure of a brief, but pleasant, visit with Lieutenant Newton K. Fox. The Lieutenant is heading up one of six divisions in the office of the General Counsel. The wholesome cordiality and general good fellowship shown toward me convinces me that Mr. Fox would be equally glad to meet any of the other boys.

When in Baltimore a few weeks ago, met Captain J. Hambleton Ober, and we spent an evening together talking over old times. The Captain expressed the wish that members of the outfit would look him up when in Baltimore. He is connected with Hambleton & Co., bankers.

The "Capitan" is still enjoying (?) single blessedness, which is a mystery to me.

W. R. (Perk) Kennedy.

BARRY, Richard.—Died on Saturday, March 19, 1927, at 7:30 a. m. A most striking and splendid military funeral was witnessed on March 22, for Comrade Barry at St. Francis Xavier's Church, N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa. Eight of his former buddies of Company H, 320th Infantry, were pallbearers, and Comrade M. Foley acted as bugler. The funeral proceeded from the home of his brother, Thomas Barry, 2129 California avenue, N. S., Pittsburgh. Solemn requiem mass at St. Francis Xavier's Church, was celebrated at 9 o'clock. Mr. Barry is survived by three brothers, Charles, Edward, and Thomas; two sisters, Mrs. William Relihan and Catherine Barry.

BRODERICK, Edward W.—Formerly Private first-class, Company G, 320th Infantry, died at his home, 1814 Carson street, South Side, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Tuesday, March 8, 1927, at 6:10 p. m., his death being due to pneumonia, after an illness of seven days. He is survived by his parents, one sister, Mary K., and two brothers, James and Bernard Broderick. Funeral was conducted from the family home on Friday, March 11, at 8:30 a. m.; requiem mass at Holy Cross Catholic Church, South Side, at 9 a. m.

LUDWIG, John, Jr.—Formerly member of Company A, 319th Infantry, Medical Detachment, died suddenly at his home, 549 Broadway avenue, McKees Rocks, Pa., March 3, 1927. He had been in ill health for some time, due to being gassed while serving in France. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie Cavanaugh Ludwig, his parents, a sister, Florence Ludwig, and a brother, Alfred Ludwig. Funeral services were conducted from his home on Monday, March 7, at 8:30 a. m. Services at St. Francis de Sales Roman Catholic Church at 9 a. m. He was buried with full military honors by members of Vesle Post No. 418, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of McKees Rocks, Pa. Interment was made in Smithfield Cemetery.

ALGEO, Frank, formerly of Company B, 319th Infantry, was killed in an automobile wreck on McMurry road, Sunday, May 1. Mr. Algeo was born in Greentree Township and had been a policeman in Crafton before joining the 80th Division for service overseas in the A. E. F. During his service with the Pittsburgh police department he was stationed at Squirrel Hill, Center Avenue and Penn Avenue Stations. He was a member of the American Legion, No. 82, and Fort Pitt Lodge, No. 1, F. O. of P. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Mary Algeo, of 8 Ogden street, four brothers, John of Chicago, Alvernon of Passaic, N. J., Heil and Thomas, Jr., at home; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Dorsey and Mrs. Elizabeth Powell of Chicago. Friends and buddies of Mr. Algeo extend their deep sympathy to his relatives in their loss.

A CHANCE FOR SERVICE

The President of the United States has issued an appeal to the American public to come to the relief of the thousands rendered homeless in the great areas flooded by the Mississippi. We have in past years heard much of America's duty to the cause of humanity in many parts of the world visited by disaster and such calls have not gone unheeded. The opportunity now exists to display this same spirit of generosity and service for our own people. An examination of the rosters of the division shows that many Blue Ridge buddies and their families live in this territory. To those who have ever had the experience of a flood of but a few days duration at the headwaters of the Ohio or other rivers it is not hard to visualize the damage and privation now existing along the Mississippi. Every former soldier knows what it is to live and exist when the great forces of nature get beyond control. Whole families have barely escaped with their lives, and if they are not to die from exposure and disease relief must be prompt.

The American Red Cross has rushed its workers to the flooded areas, but the necessities needed to meet the situation must also be untiring and liberal in their support. In this instance all organizations of fraternal nature, our veteran's association and its members as well as every individual can contribute in some manner to the battle now being waged with the rushing waters of the Mississippi.

In nearly every community of the country, the public press, radio broadcasting stations, and every means of public information is being used and each community has been allotted a quota within its means to contribute. Blue Ridgers have never failed to lend aid to a worthy cause, and there is no question that all can serve once more in some measure.

313th Machine Gun Battalion Co. B
Company B is planning a sumptuous banquet to be held during the reunion. All members out!

Fred. C. Ubinger, Jr., is still with the Fred. C. Ubinger & Co., Beaver avenue, Pittsburgh. He would like to hear from some of his "old pals of the army." He is ready to welcome all his old buddies who are going to attend the reunion at Pittsburgh. Let's go, Company B!

Herbert L. Dashbach is in the cleaning and dyeing business and is located on Shady avenue, Pittsburgh.

Ed Helt is with George P. Helt & Son—Roofing and furnace business. After Ed makes his first million he will retire.

O. B. McKinley is steward at the Allegheny County Home at Thornhill, Pa.

315 Machine Gun Battalion

Private William C. Bunting, formerly of the 315 Machine Gun Battalion, 80th Division, is still residing at Chincoteague, Id., Va. Bunting says he often thinks of the Old Vets and would appreciate a line from any of them any time.

VERY LIGHTS

"Well," reported the new salesman, swinging jauntily into the home office, "got two orders from Hardnut & Co. today."

"Fine, fine!" exclaimed the sales manager, enthusiastically.

"Yup. One to get out and the other to stay out."

Two Tommies, turned punsters, went into a restaurant over on the eastern front and said to the waiter: "We want Turkey with Greece."

The waiter replied: "Sorry, sirs, but we can't Serbia."

"Well, then, get the Bosphorous."

The boss came in and heard their order and then said: "I don't want to Russia, but you can't Roumania." So the two Tommies went away Hungary.—Commerce and Finance.

Exasperated Sergeant (to recruit at the firing point): "Do you know how to take a half sight?"

Recruit: "Yes, sir."

Sergeant: "Did you ever see a fine sight?"

Recruit: "Yes, sir."

Sergeant: "What is the finest sight you ever saw?"

Recruit: "A boatload of Sergeants being sunk."

They Will Do It

A safety director tells this one apropos the difficulty of teaching some people to observe the rudimentary principles of "safety first." Wash White got a job in a sawmill. The boss put him in charge of a buzz saw; showed him how the saw worked; warned him of its dangers, and then went away. Wash was fascinated by the shining, whirling saw.

our tenth anniversary. It will be out about June 20.

Have you asked that Buddy of yours if he is receiving the SERVICE MAGAZINE? Tell him what he is missing.

The Resident Secretary acted as one of the Judges in the Radio Council Set-Building Contest in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, April 7, 1927. He must be a Radio "bug." He surely does know a lot about them. That's why they picked him as THE judge in this important and interesting contest. He certainly works hard and is very busy. But then he knows how to go about it. Let me tell you something Buddies. He works almost every night till 'way into the wee small hours of the morning getting out the old mag, writing a few cheering words to that wounded Buddy, getting the uninterested member enthusiastic over the reunion, and advising each delinquent member of his expiration of dues and subscription. He needs your help, too, and I am sure you will not refuse. Come and make the Reunion the best yet. You'll have a good time, too.

The R. S. tells me that K. P. is going to leave us soon. She might in person, but never in spirit. I surely will miss her. We all wish her a healthy and wealthy future.

The R. S. asked me to tell you pals of mine who do not see any write-up about your outfit that it is because you do not write to us. Get me? Send us all the news you have about your old buddy. Get interested and help us make the old mag worth while.

Get out that letter you were going to send us and put the new address on it, 405 Penn avenue, and mail it. We have elevator service, too, so come and give us a call or use the telephone—Atlantic 1194. You know you are always welcome.

I guess by now most of you Buddies of Stultz know what he is doing with our history. He surely has done more than his share. Have you done yours? If you do your bit he will have the history out in the mail before we know it. Let's go, Buddy! Use the printed blank on page 2 and show him that you appreciate the work he has done for us all. You know what I mean.

One last thing—you know our General Brett is our Dear General once more. We all join in extending congratulations to our worthy and splendid general.

S'long for this time, buddy. Hope I'll see you all soon.

Till we meet again.

A. Dud.

But was it, truly, as sharp and terrible as the boss had said? To test it he touched it gently with his finger, and—the finger was no more. As Wash was ruefully tying up his hand in his bandana the boss came back.

"Hullo, there, Washington. What's the matter?"

"Buzz saw done cut off my finger, sah."

"How the dickens did that happen?"

"Ah dunno, sah," said Wash. "Ah just touched de darn contraption like dis, an' Fo' de land's sake, der's anudder one gone!"—Disston Crucible.

---of the---

80th Division

IN PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

August 31st to September 4th, 1927

All the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County want you. You have been invited by Pittsburgh Post, No. 3, 80th Division, Veterans' Association, the City of Pittsburgh, Chamber of Commerce and all patriotic, civic and religious organizations of Pittsburgh and vicinity. They are expecting you and your wife. There will be lots of entertainment and plenty of time to talk over war-time happenings. Reduced railroad rates have been obtained. You'll find plenty of good roads leading to Pittsburgh should you decide to come by auto. We also have a couple of aviation landing fields for the high flyers. Come and see Pittsburgh, the city of wonderful bridges, industries, universities and schools. Meet and greet your old buddies—talk over old times and enjoy true comradeship for a few days. Don't wait ten years for the next anniversary. Move forward to Pittsburgh with the grand old 80th.
